CONGRESSIONAL

Committee is Called to Meet in This City Tuesday, April 10.

THERE ARE TWO CONVENTIONS

To be Decided Upon by the Commit-tee, the Congressional Mominating and District Delegate-Tabulation of the Apportionment of Delegates to the Democratic and Republican State Conventions.

Yesterday Chairman S. G. Smith, of the First District Republican congressional committee, issued a call for a meeting of the committee, to be held at the office of the chairman, 1413 Chapline street, this city, on Tuesday, April

At this meeting the committee will fix the time and place for two conventions, the congressional nominating convention and the convention which will name the First district's two delegates to the national Republican convention. Two alternates, too, will be named.

It is thought the committee will decide to hold at least one of the two conventions in Wheeling.

Mr. George Laughlin, of this city, has been prominently mentioned as good timber for one of the First district delegates to the national convention.

The congressional committee is com-posed of the following:

Braxton-W. F. Morrison, Sutton. Brooke-C. B. Scott, Bethany. Doddridge-M. H. Willis, West Union. Gumer-J. S. Brannan, Glenville Harrison-S. C. Denham, Clarksburg. Hancock-E. D. Marshall, Chester.

Lewis-Charles B. Goodwin, Weston. Marshall-O. C. Wilson, Woodlands. Tyler-O. W. O. Hardman, Middle-

Ohlo-H. L. Loos, Wheeling. Wetzel-Andrew Clark, Dent.

1,044 DELEGATES

Will Figure in the Republican State Nominating Convention-937 in the Democratic Convention-Democrats Outnumbered for First Time in Years.

In the Republican state nominating convention at Charleston there will be 1,044 delegates.

In the Democratic state nominating convention at Parkersburg there will be 937 delegates.

Thus, for the first time in many years, a Republican state convention in West Virginia will surpass in numerical strength the convention of the Democracy-and this because the Democrats were licked in 1896, the basis of repre-centation in the conventions being the cust for Atkinson and Watts respectively.

The vote of each county on governor in 1896, and the number of delegates to which it is entitled in the two state conventions this year, are given in the following tabulation prepared by the Intelligeneur:

Atkinson, Dels. Watts, Dels.

New York Concert Company To-night The closing entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course will be given to-night, by the New York Concert Company. The company consists of an excellent male quartette and an exceedingly clever reader. To many there is no music like that of a male quartette. It is a pleasure to listen to voices each in itself intrinsically good and all blending in faultiess accord. Each soloist pos-sesses a voice of very charming quality. Miss Nichols gives complete sat-isfaction as a reader. Her selections range from pathos to humor. The con-cert will be given in the Y. M. C. A.

A LINSLY CADET

Has a Row at School, Runs Away and Lands in Washington.

WHERE HE IS APPREHENDED

By a Constable, Who Induces Him to Give Up Ideas of Going to Kalimanoo to Become a Cowboy and Kill Indians—Instead the Young Man is Started Home, Where He Will Arrive This Morning.

The following special dispatch to the Intelligencer from Washington gives an interesting account of the runaway trip of a Linely Institute boy:

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer, WASHINGTON, D. C., March Two youths attracted the attention of a constable at Hyattsville, near this city, last evening, and the officer took them into custody. Later they were brought to this city, and the younger boy, a lad of ten years, was restored to his mother. The older boy, who is about sixteen years of age, wore a cadet's uniform, and when questioned by the detectives at headquarters stated that his name was Noble Dauer, and that his parents lived at 1102 Market street, Wheeling, W. Va. He said that he had been attending the Linsly Institute at Wheeling, but after a row with the teacher decided to take a tour, and made Washington one of his objective points. He said that he left Wheeling March 4, with about $40, going to Cincinnati, and from there to Washington by way of Pittsburgh. He arrived in this city after having spent the greater part of his $40, and after a day of sight-seeing decided to tramp and freight it as far as Kalamazoo, Mich., where he and his newly found friend from this city, he said, hoped to become cowboys and kill Indians.

Young Dauer's parents were com-municated with, and this afternoon his mother telegraphed money to defray the young adventurer's expenses home, and he will be started back immediately.

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the novel advertising devices used by the "Uncle Josh Spruceby" company to attract attention, is the daily parade of the "Hayseed" band. The band itself, while of much better calibre than the usual traveling organzations, has its members attired, as the title indicates, in the usual characterisaic dress of the New England rustic. Some dressed in their best as on "circus day," while some attired in stage boots and jeans appear fresh from "chores With "Uncle Josh" himself in the lead, umbrells and carpet sack in hand, they parade the principal streets and gives concert of choice selections. The parade takes place at noon. "Uncle Josh Spruceby" will be on the boards at the Grand the last half of this week.

An Enchanted Dining Room.

Among the numerous novel and in-tensely interesting pictures that will be presented at the Lyman H. Howe Moving Picture exhibition at the Opera House, Friday and Saturday, March 23 and 24, with a special 15 and 25 cent matinee Saturday, will be one entitled the "Enchanted Dining Room," or dining under difficulties, by the celebrated French magician, Robert Houdyn, This picture shows a dining room, all furnished and with table ready for a small party of diners, who appear, and, they seat themselves at the table, the chairs quickly and strangely disappear chairs quickly and strangely disappear, and are next seen on top of the table. The result is that the party, instead of being comfortably seated, is precipitated to the floor in confusion and surprise. After again securing the chairs and finally becoming seated on the same the guests are further mystified to behold the table move heavenward, then disappear through the floor and reappear from the floor in another portion of the room. Then the viands begin to disappear mysteriously, next the tableware and so on until the table, chairs, diners and all vanish in a vapor like haze.

Miss Coghian will be remembered as Cella Pyrce in "The Royal Box," and several of the players who assisted in that production will be found in the cast of "Lady Flora." The play will be elaborately mounted, many of the stage pictures being especially beautiful. "Lady Flora" promises to be one of the strongest attractions of the season here.

In many respects Scrofula and Consumption are alike; they develop from the same general causes, both are hereditary and dependent upon an impure and impovished blood supply. In consumption the disease fasters itself upon the lungs; in Scrofula the glands of the neck and throat swell and suppurate, causing ugly running sores; the eyes are inflamed and weak; there is an almost continual discharge from the ears, the limbs swell, bones ache, and white swelling is frequently a result, causing the diseased bones to work out through the akin, producing indescribable pain and suffering. Cutting away a sore or diseased gland does no good; the blood is poisoned. The old acrofulous taint which has probably come down through several generations has polluted every drop of blood.

S. S. S. is the only suddicine that can reach deep-seated blood troubles like Serofula. It goes down to the very roots of the disease and forces every verying of poison out of the blood. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. The roots and harbs from which it is made contain wonderful blood purifying properties, which no poison, however powerful, can long resist. S. S. S. stimulates and purifies the blood, increases the support of the disease inherited any blood taint, don't wait for it to develop, but begin at once-the use of S. S. S.
